African American Community Foundation Offers Grant Writing Workshop Applications Now Being Accepted for the 2015 Grantmaking program

February 2, 2015 – New grant writers and those who want to enhance their existing skills are invited to attend “Grant Writing Basics,” a free workshop sponsored by the African American Community Foundation.

Workshop topics include: grant terminology, writing tips, grant funding sources, types of grants and types of proposals.

Workshop space is limited. To reserve a space contact Lisa Clarke at Foundation For The Carolinas, lclarke@fftc.org or 704.973.4534. There is no charge to attend.

In addition to hosting the grant writing workshop, the African American Community Foundation is currently accepting applications for its 2015 grant cycle. Grants of up to $10,000 will be awarded to nonprofits that address African American disparities in the Charlotte region.

Grant applications are available at <https://fftcgrants.communityforce.com>. The deadline for grant applications is March 2, 2015. All organizations who wish to apply for the grant must attend the above referenced grant writing workshop.

Established in 1991 as a special program of Foundation For The Carolinas, the African American Community Foundation supports organizations that address societal disparities experienced by African Americans, and serves as a center for African American philanthropic development.

For more information, please contact: Qiana Austin, Vice President of Scholarships, Foundation For The Carolinas, 704.973.4535 or qaustin@fftc.org.
